OLDEST ALLIES - ALCANTARA 1809

Napoleon left his brother Joseph as King of Spain with some 300,000 French troops to put down the Spaniards, nearly all of whom had revolted against French rule. At the beginning of 1809, British forces held most of Portugal, while Marshal Soult attacked the north. Taking the fight to the French, part of the British-led Loyal Lusitanian Legion, along with various Portuguese troops, raided deep into Spain. The French soon fled, and the raiders quickly occupied Alcantara (the seat of the Medieval knightly order that bears its name). Scheduled to ship in September 2012.
