GODLIKE RPG: THE COURTYARD OF HELL

It's late December, 1943, just after the bloody crossing of the Moro River. The players' superpowered Talents accompany the soldiers of the 2nd Brigade, the Loyal Edmonton Regiment, the Seaforth Highlanders of Canada, and Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, as they attempt to wrest the town of Ortona from a regiment of elite German paratroopers. It's a battle so ferocious that Churchill will call it "Little Stalingrad." It's a battle that the survivors will never forget! The Courtyard of Hell is an adventure campaign for GODLIKE: Superhero Roleplaying in a World on Fire. Scheduled to ship in October 2013.

mornings, long days, low to no pay, and a definite lack of health and safety provisions. One day you could be tied up trying to cure farmer Poorchick's sick pig, the next you are fighting back an invasion of elves. Fortunately you are not alone, and just when you feel things are as bad as they can possibly be, Granny Weatherwax will appear to give a helping hand. The second in the series of games based on the phenomenally successful Discworld books of Sir Terry Pratchett, players in The Witches take on the role of young trainee witches, such as Tiff any Aching and Petulia Gristle, travelling across the land of Lancre helping folks where they can - and fighting evil and other things. CHALLENGE OF BATTLE: THE REAL STORY OF THE BRITISH ARMY IN 1914

Winston Churchill described the opening campaign of World War I as "a drama never surpassed'. The titanic clash of Europe's armies in 1914 is one the great stories of 20th-century history, and one in which the British Expeditionary Force (BEF) would play a notable part. Within an authoritative and well-paced campaign narrative, Challenge of Battle re-evaluates the Army's leadership, organization, and tactics. Scheduled to ship in February 2014.

Employing gripping first-hand testimony and featuring specially commissioned illustrations

At the start of World War I a new and potent threat to Britain's naval supremacy took shape in the form of the Kaiser's Imperial German submarines. A submarine's crew could not board and capture a merchant ship, thus U-boat captains were ordered to surface, rendering the U-boat highly vulnerable to attack. This enabled the Royal Navy to counter the submarine threat with vessels whose outward appearance was that of a merchantman, but which kept hidden an arsenal of weapons that would spring to life if a U-boat surfaced - the Q-ships. O/A THE BOYS OF '67

In the spring of 1966, while the war in Vietnam was still popular, the US military decided to reactivate the 9th Infantry Division as part of the military build-up. Across the nation, farm boys from the Midwest, surfers from California, and city-slickers from Cleveland opened their mail to find greetings from Uncle Sam. From draft to the battlefields of South Vietnam, this is the unvarnished truth from the fear of death to the chaos of battle, told almost entirely through the recollections of the men themselves. This is their story, the story of young draftees who had done everything that their nation had asked of them and had received so little in return — lost faces of a distant war. OSP GM333$15.95

VAN RYDER GAMES If I'm Going Down

IF I'M GOING DOWN

The only certainty in life... is death! In If I'm Going Down, a Dying Card Game (DCG), it's not about surviving... it's about taking out as many zombies as you can when you go! Thrust smack-dab in the middle of a hopeless scenario surrounded by an endless horde of undead abominations, players search for weapons, items, and other resources to aid them in their mission (and kill zombies!). But, be wary - you never know when a loved-one-turned zombie may test your willpower and survival instincts. In If I'm Going Down you WILL die! It isn't a matter of IF, but WHEN. The question is, will you go out as a champ or a chump? Scheduled to ship in December 2013.

BOLT ACTION: PEGASUS BRIDGE

Intrepid British Paratroopers assault a German-held bridge in the hours before D-Day in Bolt Action: Pegasus Bridge! The mission, in the opening minutes of the Normandy landings, was to capture the Benouville Bridge and the nearby Ranville Bridge in order to prevent German reinforcements from reaching the beaches, where Allied forces were pouring ashore. 180 men, led by Major John Howard, landed close to their targets in gliders. Using the element of surprise, they were tasked with seizing the bridges, and more importantly, hold them against the inevitable German counter attack. Scheduled to ship in December 2013.
